Re: 99F-263

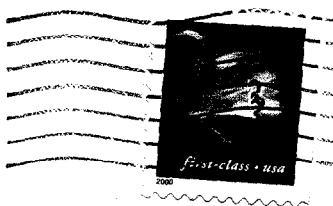

I like to buy "organic" foods so I can avoid all manner of things. Irradiation is one of them. I don't want my sprout seeds to be irradiated. Let others buy them if they know & if they don't care. I'll pay more to avoid irradiation - or simply delete a brand name or even the product to avoid irradiation. Organic is supposed to be the key word that means no irradiation (amongst other things). I object to your ruling. I have the right to know.
